PROSPECTUS

—OF—

THE TRUE ROYALIST

AND WEEKLY INTELLIGENCER,

Which will be Published on Thursday of each week, in Windsor, C. W.

BY THE REV. A. R. GREEN,

EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

The Weekly True Royalist will be devoted to the cause of Universal Liberty, Emigration, Temperance, Religion, Agriculture, Politics, Science, Literature, and General News.

The Contributions to our columns will be from different parts of the world, so as to make it a compendium of useful and interesting intelligence in Canada and the United States.

The True Royalist will be entirely Independent, and our columns will be open to persons of different views in Politics and Religion, reserving to ourselves the right of exposing anything that would tend to subvert the solidity of the General Government, or the principles of true Christianity.

It shall be our aim to make our paper a weekly visitor bearing the intelligence of the markets to the farmer's fireside in different portions of the land, and advertisements that will keep the name of business in notice before eyes of the people, and assist the emigrant in the selection the most lucrative locality to invest his funds for a future home.

The period has now arrived when a field for mental development must be opened, and there can be no hope, unless it is in a periodical of our own, for the brightest genius of our race to exhibit his talent in a literary way.

The position and circumstances of the colored man fully prove that never he can rise to any eminence, it must be by a host of pens on steadily advancing ground that no one can find ground to demur. It is attributed to any and every other cause than that of originality when an individual with the hue of the ebony race, if he be a person of any intellect. It is our intention therefore to name each a record of witnesses of the long established and inclined race in our columns as will cause the defamer, if not in his own eyes, in the eyes of every honest man, to appear vile and contemptible when he offers objections through an unholy prejudice founded in error.

A periodical is of vast importance to us to enable us to discharge the duties we owe to the Government, ourselves and posterity. It will enable our readers to be one conversant with the names of the great men of the nation: their views on politics, and their public actions be weighed, and when they appear before an intelligent community a strong speech will have very little influence on a mind that has been all the year servier the character of the candidate that asks the support of a free people. The crisis is at the door—the focal points of contending elements are already to be seen, and we, to keep pointed on the movements of the day, must have our watchmen on the citadel of our liberty to sound the alarm at any invasion of our rights.

To place the Royalist in the reach of every family, it will be of medium size, and its yearly subscription price will be 3s 6d, or 62 cents for six months, invariably in advance.

Any one sending us the names of ten subscribers, with the money, shall have the eleventh number free for one year.

All letters from the United States must be addressed to Rev. A. R. Green, Detroit, Michigan; and letters from the Canadas must be directed to Windsor, C. W., post paid.

Our Subscribers in Detroit and Windsor will do us a favor by paying their subscriptions to our carrier, Richard A. Green, as the funds will be needed during our absence.

CRUEL ARE THE TENDER MERCIES OF THE WICKED.

his is a truism, and it has fully developed itself in the Charleston Convention.

The Northern doughfaces who have bowed their necks to the yoke of the South, and the "Little Giant," too, that great down as low as he could, without crawling entirely like a serpent in the dust, he is treated with scorn and left in his own shame to sh w how cruel are the tender mercies of such masters.— The people of the North are yet to be taught the true principles of slavery. It has been suffered by a race whose case could only be looked upon at a distance; but now the subject is assuming another phase, and is pressing under its ponderous weight the white man as well as the black. Let it roll on, the more the merrier; and we shall hope to see the "good time coming."

WE WANT FINGER BOARDS.

A Hint to our Supervisors.—Would it not be a good idea for our township Supervisors to put up Finger Boards, at different points of the road to guide strangers travelling through the country?

It dont always happen that persons travelling can meet any one to guide them, nor is it that families always live at the forks of roads. And how very inconvenient and vexatious it is for a man to have to travel perhaps a mile or two on the wrong road, just for the want of a few pennies to the county expenses to have Finger Boards, nailed up directing to the different places.

Fine Spring weather has now set in; and everything begins to 'look up' for a more prosperous season.

FRIENDS OF TEMPERANCE TO THE RESCUE.

There is a pressing demand for renewed efforts on the friends of temperance to rally to the standard.

The rising generation stands exposed, the road to destruction is open to them, and many are the temptations to induce them to partake of the flowing bowl. Raise the standard, friends: save the youth from a drunkard's grave, and his soul from destruction.

QUEEN'S BIRTH DAY.

The anniversary of the birth day of her Majesty Queen Victoria, comes on the 24th inst. and should be observed with the greatest pleasure, and celebrated by every colored person throughout the Province, as the natal day of one of the most distinguished sovereigns that ever controled the affairs of any nation.

The following Militia General's orders for observance of the day, from Lieu. Col. Macdonnell, Deputy Adjutant General of Militia at the head quarters, Quebec, we clip from the 'Canada Gazette':

"His Excellency, the Governor General and Commander in Chief is pleased to direct that in pursuance of the provisions of the militia law, the annual muster of the service men, not exempted by law, of 18 years of age and upwards, but under 45 years, in the several battalions of the sedentary militia of Upper Canada, shall take place on the Queen's birthday, Thursday, 24th of May.

Officers commanding battalions are requested to give due notice accordingly to the officers commanding companies of the time and place of such muster; and his Excellency recommends that this muster take place by companies, in all cases where such a course may be deemed advisable by the officer commanding the battalion, in consequence of the distance of the limits of certain companies from the head quarters of the corps."

A NEWLY BORN CHILD DEVOURED BY RATS.

A poor Irishwoman, named Mary Connor, about thirty years of age, being about to become a mother, applied for admission into the Bellevue hospital.

She was at once taken in and placed in what is known as 'the waiting room,' where there were already several patients. During the evening she was attended by a physician, who did all that was necessary for her, and having made her comfortable, left her for the night, not anticipating that a child would be born before morning.

He promised to see her again in the morning, and accordingly visited her at an early hour on Monday. In reply to his question regarding her condition, the suffering woman told him that she had been seized with the pains of labor during the night and had been delivered of a child.

On turning down the bedclothes the physician did indeed find a child, but in what a horrible condition! The infant was dead, and its nose, the upper lip, the toes and half of the left foot, with other parts of its body, were devoured by rats. The poor woman was aware that the child was dead, but had no idea of its mutilated condition.

When questioned regarding the affair, she stated that shortly after the child was born, she had felt something which she had supposed to be rats running about the bed, but she was too feeble and sick to drive them away. In her semi-conscious state, she says she was aware that a number of rats were in and about the bed, for the remainder of the night, but she was not aware of the horrible work they were engaged in, or she would have tried to raise the alarm.

The body of the child was taken from the room and a post mortem examination made. The lungs having been submitted to the hydrostatic test, it was ascertained beyond doubt that the child was born alive. As there was neither physician or nurse attendant at the birth, and the mother was helpless, it is supposed that the child may have died for want of proper attention.

The other patients attacked it.—There is no disturbance on the part of the mother that she knows she will be stopped, and morning often finds the babe attacked by hordes of rats in our sixth houses and prisons, but that they should abound in such numbers and become so bold and so voracious as to come into bed with the patients in our hospitals, and devour a child lying beside its living mother is a fact most astonishing.

Such a state of things most certainly could not exist under proper management, and some one of the officers of Bellevue Hospital is responsible for the death of this poor woman's infant.

BENEFICIAL RESULTS OF WEST INDIA EMANCIPATION.

The Methodist Quarterly Review has in the April number an extensive article on the "Results of West India Emancipation," in which we find a tabular view of the comparative condition of the British western slave colonies in 1833 and in 1851-2. From this it app ars that in 19 years since the emancipation, the population of these colonies went up from 827, 224 to 1, 069, 895, an increase of over thirty per cent; and every single colony except the small islands of Anguillo, Montserrat and Nevis. The yearly revenue increased from £471,691 to £715,729; the value of imports from £3,295,523 to £4,727 ,295. Shipping increased from 473,091 tons to 651,698. the sugar exported to the United Kingdom had gone down from 3,646,366 to 3,108,637; a falling off of less than 8 per cent. while the home consumption had been no immense besides a considerable export to other countries. The writer of the article Rev. Henry Bleby, an English wesleyan clergyman in Barbadoes who has resided also in Jamaica for fourteen years adds the following remarks:

"The statistical view which we have given, for that, as already shown, was the period when the affairs of the planters were at their worst, and the financial condition and prospect of the colonies most dark and discouraging: since that date a vast improvement has taken place in the West Indies. sugar having risen in value, an impulse has been given to its culture and manufacture. The planters, adopting modern improvements, find the cultivation of their estates highly remunerative and the profitableness of free over slave labor is no longer a matter of question or experiment, but of demonstration and certainty.

WHO IS MR. SANBORN?

The name of Mr. F. B. Sanborn of Concord, Massachusetts, has become quite famous since the abortive attempt to arrest that gentlemen, and inquisitive people ask:

"Who is he?"

The Boston Traveler enlightens the public on this important point in the following manner:

"He is a native of Hampton Falls, New Hampshire, and is ab ut 26 years of age, with a pleasing countenance and a tall and handsomely proportioned form. He is a graduate of Phillip's Acad my, Exeter, N. H. and afterwards of Harvard college, where he stood foremost in his class.

It is supposed that he can throw but little additional light on the Harper's Ferry invasion though his name was mentioned in some of the correspondence found at the house of Brown. Mr. Sanford keeps a private school in Concord, and is held in high estimation by his townsmen.

NEW LAW.

A recent law passed by the United States Congress, provides that when any person shall endorse on any letter his or her name and place of residence, as writer thereof, the same, after remaining uncalled for at the office to which it is directed thirty days, or the time the writer may direct, shall be returned by mail to said writer; and that no such letters shall be advertised; nor shall the name be treated as dead letters, until so returned to the post o ce of the writer and there remain uncalled for one quarter.—Essex Journal.

He requests that 500 soldiers be retained there, as the withdrawal of the entire army would be injurious and unjust. He states the population of Utah at 52,000 or 53, 000, though it is estimated higher by the Mormons.

Several buildings were thrown down, and considerable damage done in different parts of the town. Up to the 12th inst, several slight shocks had occured which so alarmed the inhabitants that they abandoned the houses and slept in the streets. It was thought that a large amount of damage was sustained on other parts of the Island. The shocks were felt on board of the vessels lying in the harbor, causing their masts to shake violently. This earthquake was noticed at sea by the officers of the brig Africa, when thirty miles distant from Port au Prince, as stated in the papers of Monday.

The schooner Sarah Barton, arrived yesterday at Boston from St. Domingo, reports the occurrence of the earthquake at St. Marks, and says, but much damage was done.

A CALL FOR A PROVINCIAL CONVENTION.

At an adjourned meeting of the colored Citizens of Toronto, held in the Baptist Church, corner of Terauley and Queen streets, on the 2nd inst. Mr. Kinsler in the chair, the following Address was unanimously adopted and ordered to be published.

Fellow Citizens.—A period has arrived in our history when it becomes necessary for us to throw off and lay aside that passiveness necessary for us to throw off and lay aside that passiveness which has so long characterized us as a people composing a part and parcel of the great body politic of this Province. American prejudice and persecution, against the colored man, like Pharoah of old, is not satisfied with pursuing us through the wilderness of that iniquitious country, but does to cross the sacred bounds of this land dedicated to freedom, and raises his uplifted arm in the purpose of damaging our position and to make it appear that his o ppressed he has been ully demonstrated here, namely, that the black man is unfit for liberty, an assertion as base as it is false and dangerous And he has also used that great palladium of liberty the Press, to carry out his "Satanic" designs.

And for fear that our seeming to be silent may be construed by others that what our enimies say is true it will be necessary for us to e that very medium, namely, the Press, to rest back into their teeth the foul slander, and prove to the world that we are not only fit for liberty, but that we do enjoy and appreciate it, and are determined to protect it from any pressure with in or without, and by uniting together in one solid phalanx for one common purpose, namely, our elevation, we will prove that in unionthere is strength And while we disclaim any desire to agitate ourselves as a class from the whites, we have been assailed as a class, and, consequently, we can only repel for cause causing us a cause.

Therefore, we recommend to the colored people of the Province of Canada, to meet in Convention, on the first day of August next, in the city of Toronto for the purpose of collecting a full relief statistics of the social an co ndition of our people, and to discuss any subject which may be ca culated to promote our welfare and exe ate our condition.

And in order that there may be a full attendance each city and township shall be entitled to send as many delegates as may be ded cided upon by them and they are requested to bring as full information on the following questions as possible:—

1st. The whole number of colored persons in your city and township.

2nd The number of families.

3rd. The whole amount of real property.

4th. The number of churches and church members.

5th. The number of persons entitled to vote

6th. The number of persons who can read and

7th. Tradesmen and occupations

8th. Number of children going to school

9th Number of children not going to school.

10th. Number in jail, poor houses, asylums, and hospitals.

11th. Number of beggars.

12th. Number of thousand drunkards.

13th. Number known to be a starving condition

14th. The diseases known to prevail among you.

15th. The number of beneficial associations.

16th. The prospects and condition of the colored people.

Should the Convention any difficulty of persons attending causes, they will send a committee of other men to assist those appointed above, with the post such information as they may think necessary. Committees generally desired to our credit in speaking, which we no doubt re-

THE QUEEN'S VISIT.

The Flowing Militia general order issued by head-quarters, Quebec, and signed by Lieut. Col. Macdonell, Deputy Adjutant General of Militia in Upper Canada, we find it in the Canada Gazette.—

"His Excellency the Governor General and Commander in chief is pleased to direct that, in pursuance of the provisions of the Militia Law the annual Muster of the Service men not exempted by law of 18 years of age and upwards, but under 45 years, in the several Battalions of the Sedentary Militia of Upper Canada, shall take place on the Queens Birthday, Thursday, 24th May next.

"Officers Commanding Battalions are requested to give due notice accordingly to the officers commanding companies of the time and place of such muster; and His Excellency recommends the muster to take place by companies, in all cases where such a course may be deemed advisable by the officer commanding the Batalion, in consequence of the distance of the limits of certain companies from the Head Quarters of the Corps."

A PHILADELPHIA HORROR.

A very bloody murder was committed in Philadelphia on Sunday evening. A colored man named James Whitting, emerged at the corner of his wife and two children, one her three years, and then endeavored to kill himself. The cries of the children alarmed the passers by, and he was prevented from completing his crime although he was badly cut.

Mr. Frederick Douglass Refused an American Passport.—Mr. Douglass, while in Newcastle, recently made application through the American Minister in London for a passport to enable him to visit Paris as an American citizen. The reply made by the minister was in effect that the constitution of the United States did not recognize persons of color as citizens; the passport was therefore refused. Through the kindness, however, of the French Consul at Newcastle the required permission has been obtained.—[Newcastle Daily Chronicle.]

POETRY.

For the True Royalist.

TO S. B. WILLIAMS.

Hast thou not heard, the sun not seen,
The shout and raising hosts,
The fire and gathering steam,
A host is gathered long the shore,
See—low they quickly come in rags,
The sun is hot, the cause is true,
"Arm, man," to meet the treacherous foe,
And there is gathering, in hot haste
As though rush'd forth by magic spell,
The lovers give their last embrace:
And mothers bid their sons farewell,
Our hill and vail the echo rounds,
"My country, tis for thee I go"
From lake and shore to battle ground
They rush, to meet the dreadful foe,
The song, the old, the strange are there,
The rich and poor alike are brave,
They go through treacherous towns and swear
"We will defend our father's graves."
New England's sons are on the field,
The Western farmer leaves his plough,
Ohio waves her battle steel,
And who are last or foremost now?
And downward comes the Southern host,
Down like a torrent and the fee,
Or whirlwind are ping long the coast,
Destroying, wrecking as it go.
On campfire's smoking walls they stand,
And rear their standards high,
To live by Beauregards command
Or, with their Davis die.
And down they come, with fire and steel,
Like mad men to the battle field.
And rushing on their dearest friends,
Worldless, yet seeking to revenge,
They're gorged in negro blood full long
And now they tear and slay the strong,
As though they would in vengeance hurl
Their Balls where Union banners furl.
They come like sheep to slaughter driven
As locust from the South,
Before the angry frowns of heaven,
To face the bolding cannons mouth.
Like children to the school of death
They come, and wake the flames of hell,
Which soon shall burst on thine in wrath
Where mustyred Brown and Sidney fell.
But should the Northern Banners wave
Victorious over land and sea
Will they unbind the shackles of slave
And set the captive free?
Or will they stoop as dogs again
To chain the slave and bolt and bind,
When Davis bids them seek his game
Of human souls on Northern ground.
Where is the good, the soul of Brown?
Is their no one to help the slave?
Will millions rising yet unborn
Be sold where starry banners wave.

For the True Royalist

FROM THE ONE HUNDRED AND TWELFTH PSALM.

Jesus the very thought is sweet!
In that dear name all heavin joys meet
But sweeter than the honey far
The glimpses of his presence are.

No word is sung more sweet than this;
No name is heard more full of bliss,
No thought brings sweeter comfort nigh
Than Jesus the Son of two Most High!

Jesus the hope of souls forlorn!
How good to them to sin that mourn!
To them that seek them, as how kind,
But what are they to them that find!

No tongue of mortal can express,
No letter write its bisse nse:
Alone who hath thee in his heart
Knows, love of Jesus! what thou art.

O Jesus King of wondrous might,
O source of light arising from the light,
Sweetness that may not be expressed,
And altogether loveliest.

RELIGIOUS INTELIGENCE.

ON SEARCHING THE SCRIPTURES.

To [illegible] is a duty that no Christian should neglect. "Search the Scriptures" is a plain and impressive command on this subject. [illegible] to every [illegible] to [illegible] in the spiritual increase of this duty. [illegible] never in Christ can make progress in [illegible] vine life by hearing from mere hobbies, unless it reads his Bible, and imbibes in the law of the Lord, day and night. To be a Christian implies that he has knowledge—a knowledge of Christ, of the plan of salvation, and of the command of Christ. But how can he obtain knowledge? This he must obtain by studying the Scriptures. "Search," says our blessed Lord, "in them ye think ye have eternal life: and they are they which testify of me." It is true we may obtain some knowledge by hearing the word preached from the pulpit. But then, Christians must bring the word that they hear to the law and to the testimony: if they speak not according to this word, it is because there is no light in them. It is obvious to every reflecting mind that those Christians who read and study the scriptures the least, make also the least progress in the divine life. If they have no knowledge how can they progress? And if they do not read and study the word of God, how can they obtain a knowledge of the things they ought to know.

Those that search the Scriptures devoutly, prayerfully and daily, make progress in the knowledge of the Lord Jesus. We find also that such are flourishing and spiritual Christians; they will be like palm trees, and cedars of Lebanon. "The righteous shall flourish like the palm tree; he shall grow like a cedar in Lebanon. Those that be planted in the house of the Lord shall flourish in the courts of our God. They shall bring forth fruit in their old age; they shall be fat and flourishing." Such may not make so much ado about their religion—they may not make so much noise in the prayer and in the revival meeting, but they are growing and flourishing christians. They act on principle and perform their religious duties from right motives. They do not by go feeling alone, but they do their duty whether they feel or not—such also will be constant in the performances of duty; they will not attend meeting only when there is an excitement and revival—but they will attend the services of the sanctuary all the year round, in summer as well as in winter. Searching the scriptures then, is an important duty—as on the faithful performance of it—depends much of our spiritual growth.

All professors of religion should read and study their Bibles. But I would especially direct young Christians to the performance of this duty. My young brethren, if you would prosper in religion; if you would feel more on the subject, and if you would have light, and see your way clear, then attend to this important duty. Jesus has commanded it, then obey his injunction. Young ministers should search the Scriptures; they should become familiar with them. Here is the store-house from which they must bring forth things—new and old to their congregations. They must feed the flock with the marrow of the gospel—with knowledge. The Bible should be read daily, and often on our knees.—Church Advocate.

LADIES SHOULD READ THE NEWSPAPERS.

It is a great mistake in female education to keep a young lady's mind much attention devoted to only the fashions, to the matter of the day. It is no wonder that she is deficient in conversation, if she does not qualify her for it by reading. If you must give her something to talk about, give her education with the actual world and its transpiring events. Urge her to read newspapers and become familiar with the passing scenes and improvements of our race. Histories of some importance for the past world as well as the present, should also be read by her. Our things are not common-place enough to be the poor subject to know what is going on around us. Let the girl acquire an interest in these things, and she will be a fit companion for an intelligent conversation, and a welcome guest in any circle. Let her [illegible] mind with [illegible] and [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

Peterson—I object and bid defiance to Mr Chairman. Any trial presided over by you sir, will be illegal."

Jones, Sec'y—"Do first names on evidence is be given?" but said they "Bro. Stringer Thos. W. Stringer," but said they "Bro. Stringer is not present." It was decided, however, to hear the evidence which was read, much of it being incorrect.

Penny Wagner—was then called and said—Elder Green said that there was no Bishop and such a thing as an Assistant Superintendent ever was heard of. That is about all I know about it."

Wm. N.Hunt.—When asked what he heard, stated—I can only confirm what Mr. Younger says."

When questioned as to whether they organized a church he said, "yes Green, Brodie and Pearce organized a new church for I saw them put down names. Pearce put down one, and Brodie put down some."

Tom. Hickinson—said, "They said that so far as Bishop was concerned, they neither had Bishop Superintendent or any thing of the kind."

Edgar Anderson—"I cant say any more than what has been said, only that Bishop Brown was called a vile preacher."

Q. by Younger—Did you hear Anderson, did you hear any of the speeches say there was no Bishop? (Anderson continued.)

H. Dewey—I heard no evidence what has been said Brother Anderson? No reply.—The Bro. did not seem to understand.

Steward—were you there when they were taking the names? Ans—I was.

Henry Simm—I endorse what has been said by Thatcher. They say there was no Bishop, and Superintendent was heard of in the B. M. E. Church.

James Parker.—"I Was not here at the beginning of Annexation. They spoke of Elder Green being appointed as Ambassador the former minister going 3 D, a year, and I still that if he, Green got going 3D, a year, and I still that if he, Green did not mind the opposition out he will be able to do it as much opposition out he will be able to do it as much opposition as he would if he was not there although it was not enough to meet expenses."

Catharine Thomas—"They said Bishop Brown was a vile Elder."

Fanny Holden asked to speak, and privilege being granted said. "As I was on King st. near the market and saw Elder Pearce. He asked me if I was out to the meeting. I told him I was'nt at the hamburg. Pearce said dont say that sister, and spoke to those opposing him to Buxton, and said that Brown has but one more to do with appointing him than he has with appointing Brown."

James Smith—"Elder Warren said, there never was such a thing as an Assistant Bishop."

Susan Stone—"It was there when they organized the Church. They [illegible] Pearce said."

Agnes Sallard—"Elder Green said he never heard of an Assistant Bishop to nothing. He did not say there was never heard of an Assistant Superintendent, but said so did Elder Warren and the Board, and was at the meeting that they never heard of an assistant when there was no one to assist."

Rev. Jones Seey, at this juncture presented and read a letter which he said was the copy of a letter that Pearce sent to Bishop Payne, and was copied and sent by Nazrey to himself. The letter was read by the secy.

Minutes of the different conferences for the past three years were read to ascertain who had located.

The Committee was now some for a short time.

Bishop now was then arose and said—"When I [illegible] on this Circuit now in the church at Chatham, I was in the back office, I heard the Devil was swearing dreadfully, singing and liking, I did'nt want to come, and I have pleading my cause and pertence, my self thought I'd better go, I knew I had no my summer clothes, but, she would wash and fix my things. She washed the ugh several Kingdom, yes such a Heavy load. Now candour you must be like a money pely, so they can't cut much up my coat I have worked stuck to that and help me a Look up on my character."

The Bishop after the above remarks took his seat.

Pearce—Mr Chairman, I will not remain silent and hear good men arraigned unjustly my character.—If you can possibly manage a man, as it were, I am not the person to quietly submit. There are certain regulations belonging to this Church which have not been violated only by some few, and Penn but had all the charges laid against me.

Dr. Scott stands requested of me their church officer, declaring that they would no longer burden over by Elder Jones, and I ask, what was I to do under the Circumstances? Must I see my people destroyed, as this Committee has tried to destroy me? No Mr. Chairman, we are relying under the banner of the B. M. E. Church, its Discipline we shall stick to and if clearing to the laws that have formerly governed us, is what you term rebellion, you can be satisfied. We are British Methodists, you can be satisfied. We are British Methodists, you say to the contrary if you please."

Again I will ask Mr. Chairman, are you the Superintendent?

Brown rose and said. "If a mother has a child, she names it I believe. The Conference made me, and gave me the name, so you can call me what you please."

The Committee who had been absent from the room for some time came in and reported to the Chairman S. H. Brown, and Secy. Wm. H. Jones engaging Chas. H. Pearce with distributing tables and saying to withdraw the Lord's M.E. Church."

Brown—I decline the Rev. Charles H. Pearce silenced till the next Annual Conference."

The above is the correct report of the official action of the so called Assistant Bishop, the Rector Wm. H. Jones and Elders and Preachers, B. Steward, I. L. Christeen, R.R. Disney.

Leave the public to find what the learned gentlemen are driving at. This trial is immoral conduct, tatoed to be rebellion.

POLITICAL PROVINCIAL.

The time for electing a member to the Parliament is now nigh at hand. The people will be called upon for their suffrage in supporting some one to represent the County of Essex for four years; and we would urge it upon on our people to act the part of intelligent voters, unite on the man that will go for British Law on British soil.

Great pretensions will now be ready, and the people will be guided by a cry of annexation, and any thing that will excite the mind but let us act so as to live while we do live, and let all do would know that we are agoing to do our whole duty for the support of the Administration that carries out the law of the land without respect of color at hast.

Our colored voters have a great work to perform and if they will only be true to the British Government, they will be true to themselves and posterity; for the law knows no man by color, but the way the affairs of the Government is carried on in this county by those in power, we dont hardly know where we are.

Let us see if we can't make things look more like they ought, and now is the time to begin. Support no party that will not do their duty to all men.

CAN IT BE POSSIBLE?

We are informed that Rev. R. R. Disney Read a letter to the congregation, in this place, on Sabbath last, purporting, to be from Rev. Wm. Nazrey, in which he Disney, read, that Rev. Nazrey declares himself to be the General Superintendent of the B. M. E. Church in the Province. And he, Nazrey, E. Church in the Province. And he, Nazrey will be here in a short time to set all right, so show that he is the man.

We shall see how far this may be correct, we suppose in a short time; but if Bishop Nazrey is allowing himself to be made a tool in the hands of Jones and Co, we say he is no better than they; and indeed it looks worse to act, as one of the Elders of the party said that Bishop Nazrey had Yankeed the whole A. M. E. General Conference. We shall see the Yankee trick and the Yankeeing Bishop in this case and shall notice the case when it comes to pass.

CORRESPONDENTS.

For the True Royalist.

Rev. A. R Green,

I see in your last week's paper that a committee in the B M. E. Conference, at To ronto in 1860 presented a report on Episcopacy in which I see that they establish a rule that while they have one Bishop, they shall elect an Assistant Bishop by each and every General Conference.

The person eligible for this office must be an Itinerant Elder. * * * * *

He shall save power in the absence of the Bishop, as in case of sickness, death or other unavoidable circumstances by which the General Superintendent is prevented from attending to the duties of his office, to di charge all the duties of the General Superintendent except ordination, which he shall not perform, except in the event of the death of the General Superintendent.

Permit me to enquire,

1st. Is this Assistant Ordained to the office of a Bishop?

2d. If not ordained, would she mere elected by a Deacon by the Annual Conference, (the lawful body to create Elders.) without ordination?

3d. Where was Bishop Nazrey when the committee reported the bill for the election of this Assistant you refer to, that so wonderfully changes and alters the plan of Episcopacy, when the Discipline expressly says: the General Conference shall not do it?

I shall wait your answer as I feel greatly interested in a matter that involves so much to us all.

Yours for justice, Episcopicus

☞ Answer—We answe. Not an ordination now for Bishop was administered, nor any thing of the kind!

1. The formular in the church for ordination are three, first for Deacons, second for Elders and third for Bishops.

And if a Deacon exercises the office of Elder if he has been elected he is silenced if he dont show signs of repentance for the violation of the Constitution of the church; but this Assistant perhaps is like Melchisidech with out father with out mother with out beginning of days or end of time, and more without end of power, for he does what no Bishop in the connexion would not do if he had any knowledge of his duty.

c. Bishop Nazrey was presiding when the surname refered to was presented. And did not only put the question without any opposition, but added Rev. Jones when replying to my objections to the measure as a most flagrant violation of the Constitution of the B. M. E. Church, and would prove a source of disinterition to the same.

Yes; Bishop Nazrey did then and there, say to the said Jones, to strengthen him in the cause, you have a precedent for your action.

And this had its most salutary effect on all that were any way inclined to support it; and the speaker refered to the Rev. Chairman as the precedent.

So if it was not a rightful course, we stand prepared to prove that we have stated it just as it was performed in the General Conference at Toronto September last 1860.

HAPPY WOMEN.

A happy woman is also not the very sparkle and sunshine child! A woman who is [illegible] because she can't help it—whose smile even, the coldest sprinkling of misfortune cannot dampen. Men make a terrible mistake when they marry for beauty, or for talent, or for style; the sweetest wives are those who possess the magic secret of being happy under every circumstance. Rich or poor, high or low makes no difference—the bright fountain of joy bubbles up just as suddenly in their hearts. Do they live in a log cabin? the fire-light that backs up on the humble hearth seems no brighter than the gilded chandeliers in an Aladdin palace! Do they eat brown bread, and drink water from the well? it affords them more anti-fection than the millionaire's pate de fois gras and iced Champagne. Nothing goes wrong with them—no trouble is too serious for them "to make the best of it." Was ever calamity so dark and deep that the sunlight of a happy face falling across its turbid tide, would not make an answering gleam? Why, then, joyous tempered people don't know half the good they do. No matter how worn and cradled you feel, Mr. Grumbler, no matter if your brain is packed full of meditations on afflicting dispensation" and your stomach with medicines, pills, and tonics; just set down of those cheery little women talking to you, and swear not afraid to wager anything she can cure you. The long drawn lines about the mouth will relax! The long drawn lines about the mouth will relax! the cloud of settled gloom will vanish, and no body knows when, and the first you know, you will be laughing! Why! That is another thing; we can no more tell you why than we can tell you why you smile involuntarily to listen to the first blue bird of the season among the maple the come, or to meet a knot of pell-mell yellow daddilies in the cracks of a city pavement. We only know that it is so—oh, these happy women! how often their fund of abundance bear the weight of burdens that would seem more to the grand! how often their fitful touch little bands guide the ponderous machinery of life with an invisible touch; how we look forward through the weary day to their fireside smiles! how often their cheerful eyes see color do rose where we only behold thunder-charged clouds! No one knows, no one ever will know, until the day of judgment, how much we owe to these happy cheerful unassuming women! F.

They hope to control the navigation of the river, and expel Federal vessels from its waters by closing up the connection with the North, except by Annapolis.

"Persons who have arrived from Richmond state that the rebels are making gigantic preparations for defense of Richmond. It seems as though the first great stand would be made at that place. Masked batteries are placed at advantageous points. The city is strongly fortified and not less than 30,000 troops are there.

JEFFERSON CITY, June 18.

People living near Syracuse have arrived to-day saying that 5000 State troops retreating from Boonville with six cannon, reached Syracuse yesterday they said they were going to leave here that neighborhood, and would take at least every one who could furnish a horse.

Various reports as to the number of killed were in vogue. The probabilites are that about 150 were killed.

There is no possible doubt that a battle was fought, and the State force completely routed but the telegraph being out of order between here and Boonville we cannot get no entirely authentic account of the affair.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.—On the 12th inst., as we learn by the Muskegon Reporter, a young man named Charles Neilzel, employed in hauling up logs at the mill of Gayles & Co., was terribly mutilated. He was caught hold of the chain which was being wound up on the bull wheel, and hauling a log into the mill. As he passed into the mill, hanging his weight on the chain in the same manner, detaching Neilzel's attention and, before the latter was aware of his danger, his hand and arm was caught between the chain and the wheel, broken and mashed to a jelly, and his body carried several times round the shaft. The unfortunate man will be compelled to submit to the amputation of both arms, and has a severe wound on his neck and the side of his face; but it is hoped that his injuries are not necessarily fatal.

THE FUGITIVE SLAVE QUESTIO —Washington, June 10, 1861.—The Cabinet have had a long meeting to-day, and, it is reported on good authority, have decided to instruct Gen. Butler not to receive any more fugitive slaves into Fortress Monroe. The fear is that at the end of the war the government may have a very extensive element on its hands, and refuse to keep him. At the same time, there is no disposition exhibited, these instructions given, to send walking and talking property back to the point from which it came, but to let it alone. It is interesting to see that the whole subject resolves itself into a question of food. At the same time the "niggers" should not be allowed to return to their masters, because they will be employ ed by the enemy, as they have been before been against the government.—Herald.

EMANCIPATION.

An old gentleman, nearly three score and ten, named Bess, landed this week at Potosi, direct from Missouri, with his entire estate and house hold, consisting of himself and fifteen negroes, mostly able, adult hands. His design to settle them on lands somewhere in the West. His wife died five years ago, and he has no children. His highest hopes are to get these negroes comfortably situated on good property, give them liberty, and await God's pl asure in providing for him a better home. His reason for not remaining in Missouri, and h s preaching freedom to his negroes are, that his will might be destroyed by the authorities, might probably prove him insane and thereby ordain the negroes to bondage, and defeat his aim of life. Sensible old man and may God let him live till four score as an example to others.

Since writing the above, we learn that he was offered $11,000 f r the lot the day he left Missouri.—Grant County [Wis.] Witness.
